Nothing in this Agreement constitutes an undertaking by or obligation of the Exchange to continue to: (i) provide the Connectivity Services or access to the Exchange Systems, or any aspect of one or both, in its current form or configuration or by utilizing the equipment in place as of the date of this Agreement; or (ii) use existing communications facilities, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

2.2 The Exchange may, at any time and in its sole discretion, make additions, deletions or modifications (collectively, “Changes”) to the Exchange Systems or any aspect of them, including the interface and operational requirements, whether or not such Changes would require changes to be made by Customer. The Exchange will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Customer before any material Change to the operational requirements of the Exchange Systems (including any Change to the speed, format or operating hours thereof) is effective, unless a malfunction in the Exchange Systems, an emergency situation, or a regulatory notice, order or direction precludes such advance notice. Customer’s use of the Connectivity Services following implementation of such Change constitutes Customer’s acceptance of such Change. Customer is solely responsible for making modifications to Customer’s System which may be required to permit Customer and Authorized Entities continued use of the Connectivity Services through Customer’s System following any Change.

2.3 Customer’s access to the Exchange Systems granted hereunder is non-assignable and non-transferable and is provided on a non-exclusive basis. The Exchange reserves the right to provide access to the Exchange Systems to any other person by any means whatsoever, whether directly or indirectly, including by means of devices or equipment designed or manufactured by the Exchange or any other person.

2.4 The Exchange will not provide support for Customer's System.

3. Customer's Obligations

3.1 Customer is solely responsible for: (i) providing and maintaining, at its expense, all necessary electronic and other communications required to utilize or receive the Connectivity Services, including wiring, computer hardware, software, communication line access and networking devices (as applicable); (ii) the reliability and continued availability of all communications lines; (iii) interfacing all communications with the facilities of the Exchange or Third Party Providers at such places as may be designated from time to time by the Exchange; and (iv) complying with the minimum technical requirements as are communicated by the Exchange from time to time.

3.2 Customer is solely responsible for the design, development, acquisition, installation, testing, implementation, operation and maintenance of any and all software and equipment that it uses to access, or provide access to, the Exchange Systems.

3.3 Customer shall configure, use and operate the Customer's System and its communications network (or cause such communications network to be so configured and operated) in such a manner as to ensure that: (i) the Customer's System and the communications network does not provide access to, entry to, or interference with, any one or more of the Exchange Systems by any Unauthorized Person; and (ii) the Data cannot be taken from or otherwise accessed through either the Customer's System or its communications network or in any way communicated other than pursuant to an agreement relating thereto between the Exchange and Customer. Customer shall ensure that all service-related data processing, transmission and communications equipment and software are arranged and protected so that no Unauthorized Person may obtain direct or indirect access to the Exchange Systems.

3.4 Customer shall notify the Exchange of the name of each Authorized Entity as at the date hereof and the date on which such Authorized Entity will be provided access to the Exchange Systems through the Customer's System. Customer will promptly notify the Exchange of any changes to such information.

- (a) will provide, on request by Customer or the Exchange, all information to monitor compliance with applicable Laws and to facilitate the administration of this Agreement;
- (b) acknowledges the existence of limitations of liability and indemnities in favour of the Exchange, and that the Exchange is not, in any manner whatsoever, liable to the Authorized Entity or any other person for any losses, costs, penalties, fines, expenses, damages or other amounts whatsoever suffered or incurred by the Authorized Entity or other person; and
- (c) acknowledges that the Exchange, in its sole discretion, has the right to require Customer to discontinue access to and use of the Exchange Services by the Authorized Entity.

4.2 Customer will not furnish, or cause or permit to be furnished, access to all or any part of the Exchange Systems to any person other than an Authorized Entity.

4.3 If Customer proposes to use, access or provide access to, the Exchange Systems in a manner that is not contemplated by the Customer Connectivity Order Form, it will first give notice to the Exchange (whether by means of an amended Customer Connectivity Order Form or such other form acceptable to the Exchange) for its prior approval, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. If required by the Exchange, Customer shall deliver to the Exchange an amended Customer Connectivity Order Form to replace the then current form and any approved amendment to a Customer Connectivity Order Form will be deemed to be incorporated into and form part of this Agreement.

4.4 If the Exchange notifies Customer that the Exchange has terminated the right of any Authorized Entity to access the Exchange Systems, Customer shall: (i) cease providing access to the Exchange Systems to the Authorized Entity within five (5) Business Days of its receipt of such notice; and (ii) within ten (10) Business Days after receipt of such notice, give notice to the Exchange confirming that it has ceased to provide such access and include the date on which it so ceased to provide access.

4.5 The Exchange may take any action permitted by Law, including commencing legal proceedings, against any person to prevent an Unauthorized Person from accessing, or otherwise using, the Customer's System to access the Exchange Systems. If the Exchange commences any such action or proceeding, Customer shall cooperate with and assist the Exchange therewith in all reasonable respects and the Exchange shall reimburse Customer for the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by Customer in providing such assistance.

- 4.6 (a) If any action is taken against the Exchange by any Regulatory Authority as a result of access to the Exchange Systems which has been provided to Customer, or which Customer has provided to any person, including an Authorized Entity, the Exchange may, immediately upon notice to Customer, unilaterally take any one or more of the following actions:
- (i) limit or terminate the Connectivity Services or the right of Customer to access the Exchange Systems or the right of any Authorized Entity or other person to access the Exchange Systems through the Customer's System, or any combination of the foregoing;
 - (ii) modify the Connectivity Services, including interface and operational modifications of the Exchange Systems, or require modifications to the manner in which the Exchange Systems are formatted and displayed by Customer; or

- (b) Customer shall promptly comply with any notice and take all required actions within three (3) Business Days after receipt of such notice. Within five (5) Business Days of receipt of such notice (or such shorter period of time as may be prescribed by any related order, ruling, decision or direction), Customer shall send notice to the Exchange confirming compliance.
- (c) The rights of the Exchange under this section 4.6 are in addition to those rights set out in section 7.

5. Fees

- 5.1 Fees. Unless otherwise agreed by Customer and the Exchange, Customer will start incurring fees as set out in the Connectivity Fee Schedule. Customer will make timely payment of all fees relating to access to the Exchange Systems as set out in the Connectivity Fee Schedule posted on the Website and other amounts payable under this Agreement.
- 5.2 Adjustments to Fees. The Exchange reserves the right to adjust or change the fees and the Connectivity Fee Schedule by providing no less than fifteen (15) days' advance notice of any such adjustment or change (which notice may be given to Customer by general email distribution and by the posting of a notice to the Website). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Exchange may adjust or change the fees, without prior notice to Customer, in respect of any charges, fees, taxes or terms and conditions imposed by Third Party Providers or otherwise incurred by the Exchange in connection with the provision of the Connectivity Services. Customer's use of the Connectivity Services following notification and implementation of any such adjustment or change constitutes Customer's acceptance of such adjustment or change.
- 5.3 Terms of Payment. Fees are payable within thirty (30) days following the date of the invoice.

5.4 Delay or Failure to Pay. All outstanding fees and other amounts (except those disputed in writing in good faith before the payment due date) are subject to a late fee equal to the lesser of: (i) 18% per annum (or 1.5% per month); and (ii) the maximum amount permitted by Law, in each case calculated daily in arrears, as well as costs of collection (including legal fees and costs).

5.5 Additional Charges. Customer shall pay to the Exchange 100% of the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses that the Exchange incurs in connection with any of its contractual obligations with Third Party Providers in respect of Connectivity Services requested by Customer, as specified in the Connectivity Fee Schedule. Customer's obligations under this section 5.5 shall survive the suspension or termination of the Connectivity Services and the termination of this Agreement.

5.6 Taxes. Customer assumes full and complete responsibility for the payment of any and all taxes, charges, assessments, levies and similar amounts (collectively, "Taxes") imposed on Customer or the Exchange by any Regulatory Authority, and any penalties, interest or other amounts, relating to the Connectivity Services or access to the Exchange Systems, excluding any Taxes based upon the net income of the Exchange. If Customer is required by applicable Law to deduct or withhold any sum representing Taxes from amounts due to the Exchange then the amount due to the Exchange shall be increased so that the net amount actually received by the Exchange after the deduction or withholding of any such Taxes will equal 100% of the fees and other amounts that are owed.

5.7 No Setoff or Counterclaim. Customer will pay all fees and other amounts required under this Agreement without any right of setoff or counterclaim it may have against the Exchange or any of its Affiliates.

6. Records and Inspection. Customer shall establish and maintain accurate and complete records (in whatever form they may be kept, whether written, electronic or other) relating or pertaining to the Connectivity Services, access to and use of the Exchange Systems by Authorized Entities, and Customer's compliance with this Agreement. Customer shall, at all times during the term of this Agreement, maintain such records, and upon the Exchange's reasonable request, at Customer's own expense, make such records available for inspection by the Exchange.

7. Term; Suspension and Termination

7.1 Term. This Agreement will commence on the date of execution and will continue in effect until suspended or terminated in accordance with the provisions hereof.

7.2 Termination with Notice. Customer or the Exchange may terminate access to the Exchange Systems (or any portion thereof) or this Agreement in its entirety, or both, by giving not less than ninety (90) days' advance notice to the other party.

7.3 Termination for Breach. The Exchange may suspend or terminate the Connectivity Services (or any portion thereof), or terminate this Agreement, or both, as follows, immediately upon notice to Customer:

- (a) if Customer is engaged in any activity that has resulted in or is likely to cause a loss or impairment of functionality of the Exchange Systems for other users thereof;

- (b) if Customer is retransmitting Data without the prior approval of the Exchange pursuant to an agreement between Customer (or the recipient of such retransmitted Data) and the Exchange;
- (c) if action is taken against the Exchange by a Regulatory Authority as a result of access to the Exchange Systems which has been provided to Customer, or which Customer has provided to any person, including an Authorized Entity as set out in section 4.6(a);
- (d) if Customer has breached a material term of this Agreement, including non-payment of fees or, if applicable, the Member Agreement between Customer and the Exchange or any Data Agreement between Customer and the Exchange, and fails to cure such breach (to the extent such breach is capable of being cured) within thirty (30) days after notice of breach from the Exchange or within the prescribed period of time set out in such other agreement, whichever is later; or
- (e) in the event of any Insolvency Proceeding.

In addition to the cure period set out in section 7.3(d) above, prior to termination of the Agreement under this section 7.3 the Exchange will, where possible and in its sole discretion, provide Customer with a reasonable period in which to take or cease taking actions to remedy the situation (to the extent it can be remedied), as applicable, prior to giving notice of such termination.

7.4 Suspension. In addition to any other rights set out in this section 7, the rights of Customer under section 2 may be suspended immediately upon notice from the Exchange to Customer if the Exchange determines that:

- (a) Customer has breached a material representation or warranty or has breached or is unable, for any reason, to comply with any material covenant contained in, or given pursuant to, this Agreement or, if applicable, the Member Agreement between Customer and the Exchange or any Data Agreement between Customer and the Exchange; or
- (b) an Unauthorized Person has gained access to the Exchange Systems through Customer or Customer's System.

If the rights of Customer are suspended pursuant to this section 7.4, the suspension shall continue until such time as Customer has satisfied the Exchange, acting reasonably in the circumstances, that the event giving rise to such suspension has been remedied and that there is no reasonable prospect of a recurrence of the same or a similar event.

7.5 Effect of Suspension or Termination.

- (a) Upon termination or suspension of Customer's rights under this Agreement, the Exchange shall cease providing the Connectivity Services and Customer shall cease accessing the Exchange Systems.
- (b) Upon termination of this Agreement for any reason, subject to section 7.6, all rights granted to Customer hereunder will cease and Customer shall promptly pay to the Exchange any and all fees and other amounts owed to the Exchange under this Agreement.

7.6 Survival. Sections 1, 5.5, 7.5, 7.6, 8, 9, 11-16, 18, 20 and 21 shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

8. Ownership Rights

8.1 The Exchange Systems and all components relating thereto, and all intellectual property and other rights therein, are owned by the Exchange or Third Party Providers and the only rights of Customer therein are the rights specifically granted to Customer under this Agreement.

8.2 Data, and rights to Data, may be provided to Customer solely pursuant to the terms of a Data Agreement between Customer and the Exchange.

9. Confidentiality

9.1 Confidentiality. Each party (the “Receiving Party”) acknowledges that in the course of their dealings and the performance of this Agreement it may obtain confidential information, data or techniques (including know-how, data, patents, copyrights, trade secrets, processes, techniques, programs, designs, formulae, marketing, advertising, financial, commercial, sales or programming materials, equipment configurations, system access codes and passwords, written materials, feed specifications, compositions, drawings, diagrams, computer programs, studies, works in progress, visual demonstrations, ideas, concepts, whether in written, oral, graphic, electronic or any other form or medium whatsoever) (“Confidential Information”) from the other party (the “Disclosing Party”). If the Receiving Party is requested or required to disclose any Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party pursuant to clause (iv), the Receiving Party shall, to the extent permitted by Law, provide the Disclosing Party with prompt written notice of such request or requirement so that the Disclosing Party may seek an appropriate protective order or waive compliance by the Receiving Party with the provisions hereof. If, in the absence of a protective order or the receipt of a waiver hereunder, the Receiving Party is, in the opinion of the Receiving Party’s legal counsel, legally compelled or reasonably required by an applicable Regulatory Authority to disclose the Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party, the Receiving Party may disclose such Confidential Information without liability hereunder; provided, however, that the Receiving Party shall disclose only that portion of the Confidential Information which it is compelled to disclose or which legal counsel has advised it is required to disclose.

If an unauthorized use, disclosure or dissemination occurs, the Receiving Party will immediately notify the Disclosing Party and take, at its expense, all steps necessary to recover the Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party and to prevent its subsequent unauthorized use, disclosure or dissemination, including availing itself of equitable remedies including by way of injunction and specific performance. If a Receiving Party fails to take such steps in a timely and adequate manner, the Disclosing Party may take such steps at the Receiving Party's expense and the Receiving Party will provide the Disclosing Party with its reasonable co-operation in such actions as the Disclosing Party may request. The foregoing shall be in addition to and without prejudice to any other rights the Disclosing Party may have under this Agreement or at law or in equity in the event of any breach of this section 9.
